

News | Partnerships

Innovation Challenge in Berlin in June 2024

Would you like to design sustainability concepts with international students? Then register for the Innovation Challenge in Berlin by May 20.

30.04.2024

Are you interested in creating sustainable concepts with other international students? You want to improve your English as well as skills in project management, design thinking and giving presentations? Then register by e-mail by 20 Mai 2024.

You will get:

- Free participation in an international project
- The possibility of international networking in Berlin
- Direct feedback of business professionals
- A certificate of participation

Requirements:

- You register by the deadline until 20May 2024
- You'll be present on 12 June (afternoon) and 13 June (whole day) 2024 in Berlin and available to take part in the challenge.
- English level B2

How to apply?

Send an email to coil\(at\)hwr-berlin.dehwr-berlin.de) with the following information:

- Your course of study & current semester
- Your motivation for participating (1/2 page)
- Your current Transcript of Records showing your average grade
- English B2 certificate

That's why you should participate:

Make a difference – you will work together with students from the University of Liverpool and the Ulster University Belfast on ideas and concepts for sustainability.

- No prior knowledge or experience is required.
- Learn about sustainability issues through various activities.
- Practice important skills such as problem solving, creativity and presentation skills.
- Perfect opportunity to network with international contacts.

If you have any questions:

If you have questions please contact coil\(at\)hwr-berlin.dehwr-berlin.de).