

Fernweh? Go Out!

„Fernweh? Go out!“ was the motto of HWR Berlin's International Days in October. A semester abroad offers many opportunities, the International Office provides support with the organisation.

18.11.2024 — Staci Karasch

Studying abroad in Europe or in the rest of the world has become more accessible for HWR Berlin Students than ever before. From the 22nd to the 24th of October the International Office put together a lively set of International Days.

The market stands in the Foyer of Haus B on the 22nd and 23rd served as a presentation of some of the universities which the students can choose from for their Wintersemester 2025/2026 semester or year abroad. The exchange students represented their home universities at the stands with pictures, trivia, traditional snacks and good conversations.

On the 24th the “Reise um die Welt” -speed networking took part where HWR Berlin Returnees told about their times abroad and what to expect. On the 24th students could find out about the exciting Double Degree Programme, Master's exchange possibilities, Languages requirements for the application process, and Internships Abroad.

Specifics on how to apply and how the scholarships work was presented in the Aula and online each day.

International Days at Schöneberg Campus

International Day at Lichtenberg Campus

Did you miss it? No problem, you can find out more in the International Office Sprechzeiten (online, telephone and live) and in the Moodle Course “International Office – FB1.” The Deadline was on November 12th at 10 A.M.

Applicants will find out about which slot they will be offered around Christmas. Around the end of January the spaces which are left will be publicized in the “Nachausschreibung” and late-comers will have a chance at those places as well.