

Harriet Taylor Mill-Institut für Ökonomie und Geschlechterforschung

Conference: Gender and FinTech Entrepreneurship Thursday, 14th of November 2024 | 9 – 16 h | HWR Berlin | Badensche Straße 50-51 | Building B | Room Aula

The Harriet Taylor Mill-Institute of HWR Berlin (HTMI) is pleased to host the second annual Ta'raabet conference on gender within the DAAD sponsored Ta'ziz Partnership, which is part of the scientific collaboration between the Université de Tunis El Manar (UTM) and Hochschule für Wirtschaft und Recht Berlin (HWR Berlin).

This year the conference promotes the exchange of company practice and scientific research regarding „Gender and Fintech Entrepreneurship“. In the morning (9 – 12 h), FinTech companies will present themselves and experts from the corporate sector will provide an insight into the challenges of the industry. The scientific part of the conference starts in the afternoon (13 – 16 h). We will have various lectures in the field of management, economics, and gender studies all concerning different current FinTech topics, which all of them will be followed by a short Q & A round with the audience and/or exchange with colleagues within the field.

Target groups of the conference are company representatives, professors, researchers and students at HWR Berlin. Conference language is English.
